Vesak is the day that commemorates three major events in the life of the Buddha: his birth, his enlightenment, and his passing away. The day, which falls in May, is a joyous occasion when we celebrate the Buddha's vast kindness in sharing with the world the path that leads to the highest happiness and peace.

COMPASSION IN ACTION

Honor the Buddha's great compassion this Vesak at your temple, monastery, center, or Dharma community with a donation to support the work of Buddhist Global Relief.

- Create an opportunity for participants to make a donation to support the work of Buddhist Global Relief.
- Host a special Vesak event—such as a metta meditation session, a Dharma talk, a “bathing the Buddha” ceremony, or a chanting service—to raise funds for Buddhist Global Relief.
- Support us through peer-to-peer fundraising (to learn how, go to buddhistglobalrelief.org).

Your support will provide nutritious food, an education, livelihood skills training, and instruction in sustainable agricultural methods to people living at the edge of survival.
